Welcome!

Welcome to UofTHacks 11! Congratulations once again on securing your spot for 36 hours of innovation, excitement, and unforgettable experiences.

We look forward to seeing you in-person on the weekend of January 26-28 where you can expect to...

- 🚀 Build unique, game-changing projects!
- 🔧 Experience new technology through interactive workshops!
- 🤝 Network with industry leaders for invaluable connections!
- 🍔 Indulge in free snacks, drinks, and meals!

This booklet contains information about how to prepare, where to find food and refreshments, a list of workshops and meetups, and key contact information.

We wish every hacker the very best during this weekend, and if you require assistance during the weekend of, please visit the Help Desk on the first floor.

See you there! 🎉

Communications

Discord

Join the UofTHacks 11 Discord! This will be the main method of communication throughout the hackathon where you can connect with other hackers, sponsors, and organizers. We will be relaying important announcements here as well.

An invite to the Discord should have been sent to your email already. If you have any issues accessing the Discord, please email us at official@uofthacks.com.

Help Desk

Our Help Desk will be located on the first floor of Myhal. If you have any questions, feel free to come by and speak to one of our organizers. We're also friendly, so feel free to say hi!

Housekeeping

Check-in Procedure

Registration will happen between 4:00PM - 6:30PM on Friday, Jan 26th at the Check-in Desk. Head to the front doors of Myhal and you will be greeted by one of our organizers who will direct you as necessary. Please have your QR code, and a valid photo ID ready to be shown during check in. We will also be checking that you are verified in the Discord Server, so please have Discord opened on your phone! Once you have checked in, you will be able to grab your swag bag and attend the opening ceremonies happening at 6:30PM in MY150.

If you arrive late, as long as you registered and RSVPed, that is fine. Arrive at the help desk to pick up swag and other information.

UofTHacks Spaces

Below is a list of rooms and spaces available to you and their purposes:

Myhal First Floor Lobby: Registration, meal distribution (breakfast, lunch, dinner, and snacks), and most mini events will occur here! Please refer to the schedule for times of each of these events. As mentioned above, you will also find the Organizer Help desk here, where you can find guidance if you are lost, or have logistical questions.

MY150 Auditorium: Opening Ceremonies, Closing Ceremonies, all Sponsor Workshops and Live Judging will be held here. Please refer to the schedule for times of each of these events.

MY320 Mentor Lounge: This space is allocated for mentors to work in throughout the event. If you are looking for guidance or technical support, you can find it here!

Hack Space: This space is open 24/7 and is specifically allocated for teams to work in.

- MY330, MY360
- Common space on Myhal's 5th floor
- Common space on Myhal's 8th floor

Sleep Space: All sleeping spaces will have mattresses available on a first come, first serve basis. Please note that there will not be any pillows or blankets provided and an eye mask is recommended as the lights are motion activated. In order to use a mattress, you must bring your own bed sheets!

If you do not bring bed sheets, you will not be able to use a mattress.

- MY380: Co-ed, open 24/7
- MY370: Female only, open 24/7

Project Rules & Submission Details

This Year's Theme 🌎🚀

The theme will be revealed during our Opening Ceremony. Make sure that you can justify how your project matches our theme during your pitch! ✘

Submission Requirements 🏆

At UofTHacks 11, your final project should be brand new, crafted exclusively over the hackathon weekend. Hacking kicks off after our opening ceremony, and concludes at 7 am on Sunday, January 28, 2024. All code for UofTHacks 11 must be written within this timeframe, except for code sourced from public open-source libraries, APIs, or tutorials.

Projects worked on outside of this time frame will be disqualified from judging.

A 2-4 minute video submission is required for ALL projects this year. Any projects without a video submission will be disqualified.

Devpost Projects Due Sunday at 7 am ✨

Devpost, the online platform for hackathon management, is where all UofTHacks 11 hackers must register and submit their projects to qualify for prizes. This link will be released in the Discord on the day of the event.

Submit your project to Devpost by 7 am on Sunday, January 28th. Your Devpost submission doesn't need to be complete; we just need an entry to ensure you'll be presenting a project!

👉 Assign one person to start and submit your Devpost early to avoid missing the deadline. You're free to continue editing your Devpost submission until 7 am on Sunday, January 28th, when hacking officially concludes.

Judging on Sunday Afternoon 🏅

UofTHacks 11 Judging is set for 10:30 am to 1 pm on Sunday. You must pitch your project to qualify for a prize.

Showcase your projects, pitch them to industry representatives, and participate in the expo-style judging process.

When submitting your Devpost, make sure to select the appropriate prize categories you would like to be considered for. Hackers who fail to do so will not be considered for sponsor challenges. All projects will automatically be considered for the UofTHacks Overall prizes.

Detailed judging specifics, including your table number and time slot will be released in Discord on Sunday! 🎉

Judging Criteria

Technology

How technically involved is the project? Consider the innovative use of technologies and tools.

Learning

How much of this project had the team never done before? Evaluate the extent to which the team ventured into uncharted territory.

Design

How easy and enjoyable is the user experience? Consider the intuitiveness, aesthetics, and accessibility of the design.

Completion

How complete is the hack relative to the team's goal? Consider the functionality and features implemented within 36 hours.

Theme (Stay Tuned!)

How relevant is the project to this year's theme?
